Mr. Stuart (Mich., Loce) being entitled to the floor, said they had been told as a reason for the speedy passage of the bill, that as flogging has been abelished, there is no power to enforce discipline left. This he denied—referring to the law of 1809, to show that punishments can be inflicted from putting the culprit in irons to the infliction of death itself. As to the other argument, that the fleet to the China Seas was to said on last Thursday, he remarked that he had learned from a relative of one of the efficers that the expedition was not to sail until June.

Mr. STANTON (Tenn., Loco) explained. Me had said a part only of the expedition was to

Mr. STUART replied, that as Commedore Perry was not to leave until the first of June, there was no necessity for hurrying the bill through. Not-withstunding this, the House was saked, under the operation of the previous question, to pass it in thirty minutes.

He then examined the bill, one of the He then examined the bill, one of the objections to which was, that an officer, not holding his place by merit, but by regular grade, is clothed with the power of being accuser, witness, judge, and executioner, at his own pleasure. He suggested, as a means of reformation, that good wages be paid, to respectable American sailors, who will need to flogging; that, instead of promoting officers by grade, selections be made by merit.

The vote by which the bill was rejected was respectable when

Mr. Miller, (Mo., Whig) remarked that he intended to present a substitute for the bill, founded in a great degree on the measure prepared by a Board of Naval Officers convened in this city twelve months ago, and which passed the Senate during the XXXist Congress. He explained has substitute, proposing to retain most of the penalties recommended, but providing for the establishment for summary Court Martial for the trial of all offenses greater than the officer is authorized to infect of his own authority, and yet not sufficiently severe to require a trial before a general Court Martial.

Mr. DUNHAM (Ind , Loco) took the ground Mr. Dunham (Ind., Loco) took the ground that as the graduation of the public lands has been abandened, some other mode should be resorted to for the disposition of the domain, and what could more generally contribute to the general prosperity of the country than the passage of the measure now before them! He preferred this proposition to that of giving lands for railroad purposes. They should first build up a population by giving lands to actual settlers: and this being accomplished, railroads must necessarily follow, with every other improvement. He locked on the militions of uncultivated acres as so much capital lying unemployed, and urgently advocated giving a nomestead to the needy to develop the riches of the soil, and thus add to the national wealth. Besides the beneficent provisions of the bill, it would give a new impulse to liberty throughout the world, and contended that an interest in the soil is a natural as well as moral right, to which every man is as much entitled as he is to the air he breathes.

The affair took place at his residence on Monday evening, and passed off to the satisfaction of all conserned. On the entrance of the Committee, R. H Daly addressed the Maj nearly as follows:

Daly addressed the Maj. nearly as follows:

A. P. Fonda, Esq: On behalf of the employées of the Hudsen River Railroad, I begy your acceptance of this service of plate. It gives me the greatest pleasure in assuring you, Sir, of the high regard in which you were held by the Directors of this Road as well the Employées. As late Auditor of the Company, you discharged the duties of that office with credit to yourself and honor to the position which you held, and while giving satisfaction to the Company you at the same time, by your uniform courtesy and kindness, gaized the good will and esteem of all those with whom you were connected. This testimonial, Sir, is but a slight expression of the regard in which you are held, but it is the unanimous contribution of the host of friends you have here. Accept it, Sir, and in whatever soluce you may bereafter mer's in this life, you carry with you our best wishes for your future prosperity, and never will you find stronger friends than those you now leave on the Hudson River Railroad.

To which the Major replied as follows:

Gratlemen: In receiving this beautiful testimonial at the hands of the Committee delegated by the employées of the Hudson River Railroad Cempany, and the kind manner in which you have expressed the sentiments of the gentlemen whom you represent. I feel myself deeply affected with heartfelt gratifude, not only for this expression of your appreciation of the manner in which I have performed the duties that brought us into connection, (heretofore entire strangers to each other,) and the respect that I have invariably received in my intercourse with you; but I would also, from my very heart, thank you for your cordial cooperation in the duties assigned to me, which has lightened my labors, and made that a pleasure which otherwise and under other circumstances would have been an irksome task. Likewise I would remark, that the purity of the silver is a fit smblem of that delicate regard and respect of which I speak. If in the performance of my duties I have gained that respect, my conscience assures me that I have faithfully executed those duties, as far 2s hay in my power, for the interest of the Company. I would therefore, gontlemen, tender 19°1, and those you represent, not only my heartfell acknowledgment, but my best wishes for your health, prosperity and happiness.

DEATH OF JOSHUA DORSEY, Esq.-This gentleman departed this life on Monday morning, April 5, at his residence in Bleecker-st., in the seventy-sixth year of his age. He was born in 1776. It excited much remark at one time, that at a small dinner-party, during Mr. Jefferson's administration in Baltimore, where he was 10ng an emmess mes-chant, the six persons present, including himself chart, the six persons present, including himsel had all been born in that year and were all Jefferso men. The capture of his vessels in the war of 1815 overthrew his business. He recovered twice and was twice again unfortunate. He was engaged in the defense of Baltimore during the war, and was in Fort McHenry during the whole bombardment, as Sergeant in Judge Nicholson's company of Fencibles, composed of merchants and lawyers. He was always conspicuous in Baltimore as a sagacio politician : in fact, it was frequently said that he governed the city, and that he had "made the Mayors long enough." During the bank mobs in 1835, when Mayor Hunt ran away, it was difficult owing to the great panic, to find a chairman for public meeting of the critizens in the Exchange to divise measures to put down the rioters. In this emergency Mr. D. nominated his friend Gen. Smith formerly U. S. Senator, and then in his eightietl year. The gallant manner in which the veterar chief quelled the tumult, and his subsequent nearly unanimous election to the Mayoralty, must be fresh in the minds of the reader. Mr. D. was a gentleman of the old school, remarkable for his uniform equa nimity, blandness and courteousness. He had had no less than five attacks of paralysis during the last five years. He resisted them all, but finally succumbed to a violent shock to his nervous system from a severe fall on his head on Wednesday last

His remains will be taken to Greenwood to-morrow BURNED TO DEATH .- A colored woman named Rosanna Eldorer, who resided at No. 108
West Broadway, died vesterday at the New-York

CHARGE OF COUNTERFEITING .- A man named Wm. Kennedy, was yesterday arrested charged with having passed a counterfeit $5 bill of the Bank of Middletown, Pa., to George Crane, o No. 2 Jefferson-st. It is alleged that the accused was aware of the character of the bill at the time of passing it. He was committed by Justice Lothrof for examination.

MECOND BOARD.

TUESDAY, April 6-P. M.

There was an active Stock market today, with a general firmness in prices at the opening. A leading operator, however, coming in as a bear, the market fell off toward the close of the First Board for all the fancies. In the street Reading was very heavy under some of the rumors from Philadelphia which are so abundant now-a-days At the Second Board there was considerable busy ancy and good demand for fancies. Reading was in demand at 72, and sold after the Board at that price, short sellers' option. The amount of Stock on the New-York books is about 17,000 shares only, and a considerable portion of that belongs to Boston account. The Philadelphia operators talk of 78 this week for it. Erie closed firm at 88-yesterday's price. Niearsgua sold at 45-an advance of 21 77 cent. Zinc was heavy, and closed at 131. A small sale of Farmers' was made at 94-an advance of 4 $7 cent, on the last sale. Harlem improved | P cent. Canton went up to 814, but finally closed firm at 80the price of yesterday. Norwich is firm at yesterday's price, 571. For State and Government Stocks there is a fair demand at full prices. Sixes, 1867, improved t P cent. Indiana and Illinois Stocks we still an upward tendency, and are in demand-There was considerable business done in Erie Securities, at rather easier rates.

The market for Sterling is lower. First class Bankers' bills can be bought at 94, and good bills, at 91@9 per cent. France 5.20. The supply of bills is larger while there is a less active demand.

In Freights there is but a moderate basiness and rates are easy. Engagements 1,500 bales Cotton at 7.32d @ d., the former for compressed Flour, 1s. 6d @1s. 7d. 10,000 bush. Grain at 41d. Deadweight, 15s @20s. To London, 2,000 bbls. Flour at la 6d.@1s. 9d. To Germany, two brigs at 8d. for Rye, and to Antwerp, Flour, 2s. 6d. and Grain 7d. To Havre the business is moderate at ic. for Cotton : $6@$8 for Rice, Bark, &c.

The annual election of the Mechanics Bank was held to-day, and the old Board reelected, with the exception of Mr. Philip Henry, who de. clined on account of ill health. Mr. Hargous was elected to fill the vacancy. The following gentle-men compose the Board: Messrs. Shepherd Knapp, Robert Kelly, A. C. Kirgsland, T. C. Chardavoyne, Richard Irvin, Liaus W. Stevens, Francis Hall, C. H-Sand, Loring Andrews, Oliver B. Tweedy, John Bulthe able management of Mr. President Knapp and Cashier Edmonds this Bank has become one of the most successful in the street, and the stock sold to.

The stormy weather of the last week has The opening of the Canal has been further postponed, and perhaps may not take place till 1st May-We have in consequence to report a dull week, and as a necessary consequence a heaviness in prices.— Importers of fancy styles especially have become impatient. The auction rooms are crowded with French Goods, and lower prices have been accepted. There is nevertheless a good business yet to come forward. The country parts are bare of Goods, and a very general demand must prevail. The demand or the interior of this State has not yet commenced, and that is equal to a month's active business in New-York. Brown Sheetings and Shirtings are selling very moderately, but at steady rates. Bleached Goods are in request, especially of the finer grades. and prices firm. Drills, with a light supply and heavy export demand, have advanced-Browns to 74c @74c., and Blues are scarce at 84c. Bleached Osnabughs are steady but dull. Denims are active at uniform rates. Stripes and Ticks are moderately active, but the market is in favor of buyers. Printing Cloths are very inactive and prices nominal. are less active. The lower qualities are almos unsalable, and the best grades are selling at a decline in price. Ginghams see firm, the stock very light, and demand good. Lawns are moderately active, and prices are unform. De Laines are in fair request for good styles, but stock is again accumulating. The increased supply of the season is more than equal to the demand Cloths are rather more active, but prices are low and favor buyers. Cassimeres are dull for all kinds and prices are heavy. Satinets are more active. The imitations of the best styles of Cassimeres have been fortunate in a good and continued demand as steady prices. Foreign Goods are dull. There has been more pressure at auction of French goods, and little is doing in private trade. Jobbers not being so active as last week, buy more sparingly, and only keep up their assortments. The auction sales of the week were attended by few buyers outside the city. Ribbons and Silks of this years' importation are the firmest. Other Dress Goods, such as De Laines and Printed Cottons have sold very low in price. French Cloths are dull. The demand for German low priced Cloths, though large, is below the supply. The French packets now coming out are with very poor cargoes. The British steam do not bring full cargoes, and the importations alto gether are light. British goods are rather more in quired after, but principally staple goods. Dress goods sell very moderately.

The receipts on the Long Island Railroad for the months of February and March of the current year are $27,356 77, and for the corresponding months last year $25,510 11, showing an increase for the two oths of $1,846 66. John Brough, Esq., President of the Madison and Indianapolis Railroad, arrived in town to-day, and gives a highly encouraging statement of the business of the road. The receipts for March were about $11,000 in excess of those of March, 1851, or some 40 D cent. We ask attention to the advertisement
